

Vera Institute of Justice

Criminal Justice Issues and Prisoners' Rights

<https://www.vera.org/research/the-guardianship-project-video>

Public Facing Advocacy Writing

Michael Jacobson, director and president of the Vera Institute of Justice, and Laura Negrn, director of Veras Guardianship Project, talk about the projects groundbreaking holistic approach to guardianship services for older adults and people with disabilities who have been adjudicated by the court as incapacitated. Watch the video and learn how The Guardianship Project works to ensure more justice for people in need of guardians and saves New Yorks taxpayers Medicaid dollars.

Michael Jacobson, director and president of the Vera Institute of Justice, and Laura Negrn, director of Veras Guardianship Project, talk about the projects groundbreaking holistic approach to guardianship services for older adults and people with disabilities who have been adjudicated by the court as incapacitated. Watch the video and learn how The Guardianship Project works to ensure more justice for people in need of guardians and saves New Yorks taxpayers Medicaid dollars.

Restorative justice is a framework that views crime, conflict, and wrongdoing as harm to relationships and not merely violation of the law by focusing on people who have been harmed and their needs, while also holding people who have caused harm directly accountable for those needs. Restorative justice successes include reduced recidivism, high sat ...

Language access means ensuring that people who have limited or no English language proficiency or are Deaf or hard of hearing are able to access information, programs, and services at a level equal to English-proficient hearing people. Providing language access to incarcerated victims of sexual abuse honors their humanity and worth in the wake of a ...

Transformative change, sent to your inbox.

Vera Institute of Justice. All rights reserved.