Campaign and Advocacy

Intervention by the Association of Fulani Women and Indigenous Peoples of Chad (AFPAT, for its acronym in French) at the 2022 UN Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues

Mister President, dear members of the Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, dear President of the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, dear Special Rapporteurs, dear Indigenous brother and sister delegates:

It is an honor for us to speak on behalf of the Association of Fulani Women and Indigenous Peoples of Chad, AFPAT. I come from the Fulani Mbororo community, nomadic and semi-nomadic. We live in every corner of Chad, from the savannah in the center, to the tropical forest in the south.

To do this, I would like to thank above all the government of Chad for the implementation of the national health program for breeders in areas of difficult access.

However, it should be noted that this program still presents challenges in its implementation, some of which are said to be due to the marginalization of this community. That is:

Seores relatores especiales:

Queridos hermanos y hermanas delegados Indgenas:

Es para nosotros un honor tomar la palabra en nombre de la Asociacin de Mujeres Fulani y Pueblos Indgenas de Chad, AFPAT. Vengo de la comunidad fulani mbororo, nmada y seminmada. Vivimos en todos los rincones de Chad, desde la sabana en el centro hasta la selva tropical en el sur.

Para ello, me gustara agradecer sobre todo al gobierno de Chad por la implementacin del programa nacional de salud para los granjeros en zonas de difcil acceso.

Sin embargo, cabe sealar que este programa an presenta desafos en su implementacin, algunos de los cuales se dice que son por la marginacin de esta comunidad. Se trata de:
