Since taking office, the Trump administration has been committed in its attack against low-income immigrants of color. One of its priorities has been to transform the system of family-based immigration by redefining millions of immigrants as future public charges and to deny them green cards as a result. In response to the administration's release of "Inadmissibility on Public Charge Grounds," a rule seeking to vastly expand the number of individuals denied green cards, Make the Road New York, African Services Committee, Asian American Federation, Catholic Charities Community Services, and Catholic Legal Immigration Network filed a case seeking to prevent the rule from ever taking effect.
