

Center for Justice and Accountability

Torture, Former Combatants, Political Prisoners, Terror Suspects, & Terrorists

<https://cja.org/what-we-do/litigation/camps-v-bravo/clients/>

Campaign and Advocacy

CJA represents the families of four victims of the 1972 Trelew Massacre, three who died during the events at Trelew, and one who survived his torture and shooting.

Raquel Camps: Raquel and her brother Mariano's father, Alberto Camps, was one of the initial survivors of the Trelew Massacre. Alberto was shot and severely injured during the events of the Trelew Massacre. The siblings were born after the events in Trelew, but their parents were continuously persecuted and intermittently detained for their political beliefs and for Alberto's role in disclosing what really occurred that night. In August 1977, when Raquel was an infant and Mariano was three years old, the military abducted them and their mother, Rosa Mara Pargas, and killed Alberto. Three weeks after their abduction, the siblings were returned to their grandmother, but their mother was never seen again. They continue to seek justice for their parents.

Eduardo Cappello II: Eduardo Cappello's uncle and namesake Eduardo Cappello, was murdered at the Trelew Massacre. Eduardo Cappello II is his uncle's last surviving relative. Eduardo's entire family was persecuted for their search for answers and justice related to the elder Eduardo's murder. In 1977, Eduardo II's father, mother, and fourteen-year-old half-brother, Pablo Miguez, were abducted and disappeared. Eduardo II and his half-sister were spared only because they were not with their family that day. Pablo Miguez was seen at several government detention centers, including Argentina's infamous torture center ESMA, and is believed to have been one of its youngest prisoners. He was never found. Eduardo was raised by his paternal grandparents and joined his grandmother in her search for justice until she passed away. He continues to fight for justice and accountability as his uncle's only remaining family member.

Alicia Krueger (Bonet): Alicia Krueger's late husband, Rubn Bonet, was killed in the Trelew Massacre. The last time Alicia saw her husband was at a hearing in court in Buenos Aires, before he was transferred to a prison 1,300 miles south to the province of Chubut. Following her husband's death, Alicia fought to bring a civil complaint against the Argentine Navy, forcing them to allow her to exhume and perform an autopsy on Rubn's body. After her lawyer was murdered by the Triple A, a death squad linked to the armed forces of Argentina, Alicia found out that she, too, was on the death squad's kill list. After her lawyer's murder in 1974, she went underground. She lived hiding in Argentina until 1977 when she and her family fled the country, first to Brazil and finally to France. Since arriving in France as a political asylee, Alicia has advocated for justice for her husband.

Marcela Santucho: Marcela Santucho was only nine years old when her mother, Ana Mara Villarealde Santucho, was shot and killed in the Trelew Massacre. After the massacre, Marcela and her two sisters, who were eight and ten years old, were forced into hiding and eventually fled Argentina. Many members of Marcela's family were attacked, murdered or disappeared. Her grandmother was forced into exile and settled in Switzerland, where Marcela joined her when she was 17. Marcela returned to Argentina in 2008, and she has advocated for justice for the Trelew Massacre. She has dedicated her life to preserving the memory of her parents and continues to seek justice for her mother's murder.

CJA representa a las familias de cuatro víctimas de la Masacre de Trelew de 1972, tres que fallecieron durante los hechos en Trelew y uno que sobrevivió a la tortura y los disparos.

Raquel Camps: El padre de Raquel y su hermano Mariano, Alberto Camps, fue uno de los sobrevivientes de la Masacre de Trelew. Alberto recibió un disparo y resultó gravemente herido durante la Masacre de Trelew. Los hermanos Camps nacieron después de los hechos de Trelew, pero sus padres fueron perseguidos continuamente y detenidos de manera intermitente por sus opiniones políticas y por las declaraciones públicas hechas por Alberto respecto a lo que verdaderamente ocurrió esa noche. En agosto de 1977, cuando Raquel era una bebé y Mariano tenía tres años, los militares los secuestraron junto con su madre, Rosa Mara Pargas, y asesinaron a Alberto. Tres semanas después de su secuestro, los hermanos fueron devueltos a su abuela, pero nunca volvieron a ver a su madre. Ellos continúan pidiendo que se haga justicia en el caso de sus padres.

Eduardo Cappello: El tío de Eduardo Cappello (Eduardo Cappello II), también de nombre Eduardo Cappello (Eduardo Cappello I), fue asesinado en la Masacre de Trelew. Eduardo Cappello II es el último familiar sobreviviente de su tío. Toda la familia Cappello fue perseguida como resultado de la búsqueda de respuestas y peticiones de justicia relacionada con el asesinato de Eduardo I. En 1977, el padre, la madre y el medio hermano de 14 años de Eduardo Cappello II, Pablo Miguez, fueron secuestrados y desaparecidos. Eduardo y su media hermana se salvaron porque no estaban con su familia ese día. Pablo Miguez fue visto en varios centros de detención del gobierno, incluido en el infame centro de tortura de la ESMA. Se cree que Pablo fue uno de los presos más jóvenes de ese centro. Nunca fue encontrado. Eduardo fue criado por sus abuelos paternos y acompaña a su abuela, Soledad Davide Cappello, en su búsqueda de justicia hasta que ella falleció. Él continúa luchando por la justicia y la rendición de cuentas como el único miembro de la familia que sobrevivía a su tío.

Alicia Krueger (Bonet): El esposo de Alicia Bonet, Rubn Bonet, fue asesinado en la Masacre de Trelew. La última vez que Alicia vio a su esposo vivió en una audiencia en un tribunal en Buenos Aires, antes de que lo trasladaran a una prisión a unos 2000 kilómetros al sur de la provincia de Chubut. Tras la muerte de su esposo, Alicia luchó para presentar una demanda contra la naval argentina, para obligarlos a permitirle exhumar el cadáver de Rubn y realizar una autopsia. Después del asesinato de su abogado por la Triple A, un escuadrón de la muerte vinculado con las fuerzas armadas argentinas, Alicia descubrió que ella también estaba en la lista de muerte de la Triple A. Por ello, entrenla clandestinidad en 1974. Permaneci escondida en Argentina hasta 1977, cuando ella y su familia huyeron del pas, primero a Brasil y, posteriormente, a Francia. En el gobierno francs le otorga asilo politico. Desde entonces, Alicia ha abogado por justicia para su esposo.

Marcela Santucho: Marcela Santucho tena slo nueve aos cuando su madre, Ana Mara Villareal de Santucho, fue asesinada a tiros en la Masacre de Trelew. Despus de la masacre, Marcela y sus dos hermanas, quienes tenan ocho y diez aos, se vieron obligadas a esconderse y finalmente huyeron de Argentina. Muchos miembros de la familia de Marcela fueron hostigados, detenidos, asesinados o desaparecidos. Su abuelo tuvo que buscar asilo politico en Suiza. Ms tarde Marcela se mud con ella cuando tena 17 aos. Sin embargo, Marcela regres a Argentina en 2008 y ha acompaado los esfuerzos para que se haga justicia por la Masacre de Trelew. Tambin ha dedicado su vida a preservar la memoria de sus padres y sigue pidiendo justicia por el asesinato de su madre.

Center for Justice and Accountability
268 Bush St #3432
San Francisco, CA 94104

T: 415 544 0444
F: 415 544 0456

GERALD GRAY LEGACY CIRCLE

GERALD GRAY FOUNDED CJA IN 1998 AND CONTINUES WORKING TO HELP TORTURE SURVIVORS TODAY.

Join the Gerald Gray Legacy Circle

To join, please let us know that you have included CJA in your estate plans, insurance policy, or planned giving instrument by contacting us at center4justice@cja.org. We will ensure your gift supports CJA's mission and welcome you to the Gerald Gray Legacy Circle.

Legal name: Center for Justice & Accountability
Tax ID# 94-3299-686
(415) 544-0444 • www.cja.org

*"We will never catch all the torturers—but we will always catch some,
and none of them will ever know who is next."*