

Solitary Watch

Criminal Justice Issues and Prisoners' Rights

<https://solitarywatch.org/2016/06/12/seven-days-in-solitary-6122016/>

Campaign and Advocacy

close

Search

close

close

Our Weekly Roundup of News and Views on Solitary Confinement

by Aviva Stahl | June 12, 2016

On the Marshall Project, Andrew Cohen explores the ongoing lawsuit against the Pennsylvania Department of Corrections and its reform-minded secretary, John Wetzel. Lawyers for Arthur Johnson, an incarcerated man with intellectual disabilities who has spent the last 36 years in solitary confinement in the states prisons, allege that Johnsons conditions of confinement violate the 8th amendment ban on cruel and unusual punishment.

A group of peace activists finished their planned walk from Chicago to Thomson, Illinois, to protest the imminent opening of the nations second federal supermax. This would be the largest concentration of solitary confinement in the U.S., said participant Tim Meadors. Being in a cell 23 hours a day doesnt pacify anyone; it leads to more violence in society because they dont know how to cope.

An article traces the differences in how Colorado and Wisconsin are working to reduce the use of solitary. Colorados decision to curtail the use of solitary confinement which the state of Wisconsin has begun to do offers lessons for the Badger State that Raemisch is uniquely positioned to offer, writes journalist Dee Hall.

New Yorks State Assembly passed a bill known as Kaliefs Law, a reference to the young man who committed suicide after spending three years on Rikers Island awaiting trial, most of it in solitary confinement. If the State Senate follows in suit, the bill will help ensure that people arrested receive a speedy trial.

As Los Angeles County phases out the use of solitary confinement for incarcerated children, the probation department has been tasked with reimagining what can be done with the special housing units. At Camp Joseph Scott in Santa Clarita, a group of girls painted a mural in the SHU to bring light to a block that used to hold people in isolation.

After agreeing to hear his case, the Supreme Court has announced that it will not consider the Eight Amendment issues raised by Bobby Moore. The Court will only whether the standard that Texas had used to determine Moores intellectual disability should disqualify him from execution, according to Mother Jones.

A local outlet examined the cases of the ten individuals on Kansas death row, who are all held in solitary confinement. Most of the cells are 83 square feet about the size of a small bedroom and have concrete walls and floors, one small window and a solid door so that inmates are unable to look through bars to visit with other inmates.

Controversy has sprung up around the legacy of Derrick Schofield, who announced his resignation last week as the Commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Corrections. While Schofield cut the number of people held in long-term solitary, some staff believe the move led to an increase in violence on the inside, and criticized the tier management approach Schofield implemented to manage the deteriorating situation.

Aviva Stahl is a Brooklyn-based reporter who writes about science/health at the intersection of mass incarceration, national security, and trans rights. Shes written for the New York Times, Wired, BuzzFeed News, Solitary Watch, and other outlets. Find her @stahlidarity and at stahlidarity.com.

Accurate information and authentic storytelling can serve as powerful antidotes to ignorance and injustice. We have helped generate public awareness, mainstream media attention, and informed policymaking on what was once an invisible domestic human rights crisis.

Only with your support can we continue this groundbreaking work, shining light into the darkest corners of the U.S. criminal punishment system.

by Mirilla Zhu

October 26, 2022

by Caitlin Konya

October 19, 2022

by Mirilla Zhu

October 12, 2022

Solitary Watch encourages comments and welcomes a range of ideas, opinions, debates, and respectful disagreement. We do not allow name-calling, bullying, cursing, or personal attacks of any kind. Any embedded links should be to information relevant to the conversation. Comments that violate these guidelines will be removed, and repeat offenders will be blocked. Thank you for your cooperation.

P.O. Box 11374
Washington, DC 20008

info@solitarywatch.org

Solitary Watch

Copyright 2022, Solitary Watch

Read about rights and permissions.

Solitary Watch News