

Reframe Health and Justice

Sex Workers' rights and Human Trafficking

https://reframehealthandjustice.medium.com/roots-of-end-demand-a7394466c6fe?readmore=1&source=user_profile-----13-----

Public Facing Advocacy Writing

May 23, 2019

Member-only

Often, conversations on End Demand, the increased policing and criminalization of purchasers of sexual services, begins when we talk about the Nordic Model. In 1999 Sweden made a move to criminalize the purchasing of sexual services, known as the Swedish Sex Purchase Act. A number of countries have adopted various forms of the model, including Iceland and Norway, and more recently Canada and France. While the laws are always passed saying its about

--

--

A collective of individuals dedicated to reframing the sociopolitical paradigms through which we understand race, gender, health, and justice.

Love podcasts or audiobooks? Learn on the go with our new app.

Nationwide Report

Nationwide Report

Matthew McCutcheon

in

The Weekly Writ

Missing People Canada

Nationwide Report

nahanara

Jessie London

in

The Candid Cuppa

More Than Our Crimes

in

An Injustice!

AboutHelpTermsPrivacy

A collective of individuals dedicated to reframing the sociopolitical paradigms through which we understand race, gender, health, and justice.

Help

Status

Writers

Blog

Careers

Privacy

Terms

About

Knowable