Main Web Page

Welcome to the new and improved SWOP-USA website! We're going through many changes as an organization and a digital overhaul is part of that. You'll find an entirely new resource section, our Chapter Hub site has moved here, and we'll also be producing significantly more resource sheets in the coming months.

Sex Workers Outreach Project-USA is a national social justice network dedicated to the fundamental human rights of people involved in the sex trade and their communities, focusing on ending violence and stigma through education and advocacy.

Explain how making someone homeless protects them from the risk of being trafficked.

QUICKLY.

We are extremely sad to announce the death of our friend and comrade Mike Davis, the pioneering historian of the US working class and fierce critic of the economic, political, and military apparatuses of the US state machine and the brutalities of empires in general.

Forever loving the phrase

"I didn't state a view. I stated a historical fact"

At its core, trafficking is the exploitation of vulnerable people. Yet our funding to fight human trafficking almost exclusively invests in traffickers and their punishment. The math is all wrong.

No panelists expressed concern that most anti-trafficking tools are built for police end users; how many law enforcement officers are domestic violence abusers or traffickers; or how tools to bypass warrants risk disproportionately targeting innocent BIPOC and LGBTQ citizens
