Tell Congress: Release the Torture Report

Almost six years after the Senate began investigating the CIA's treatment of detainees, two years after the Senate Intelligence Committee voted to adopt its Torture Report, and eight months after that committee held a bipartisan vote in favor of releasing its findings, the more than 500-page executive summary of the Senate Intelligence Committee's Torture Report was made public on December 9, 2014.

A decade is more than long enough for the CIA to hide the truth about torture. Send an email to your Members of Congress today asking for the full 6,000 page Report to be made public.

We just need few pieces of information to connect you with your Senators.

The 2019 film The Report, starring Adam Driver and Annette Bening, tells the story of U.S. Senate staffer Dan Jones leading an investigation into the CIA's torture program. As Jones uncovers the truth that torture was not only brutal and immoral, but also ineffective the CIA works to prevent his findings from ever being made public.

Plan a screening or discussion in your congregation or community. Watch the trailer to the movie and learn more: www.nrcat.org/TheReportMovie
