

Human Rights Watch

Children's Rights

<https://www.hrw.org/topic/childrens-rights/refugees-and-migrants>

Campaign and Advocacy

All too often, the thousands of unaccompanied children arriving in foreign lands without parents or caregivers find themselves trapped in their status as migrants, with officials giving little consideration to their vulnerabilities and needs as children. They may be denied access to adequate medical services and education, abused and mistreated by police, guards, and other detainees, and unable to seek asylum. They may languish in jail-like detention facilities, in conditions that are often degrading and inhumane, and many children are held in cells with adults who are strangers. Children held in detention, particularly for long periods with no release in sight, suffer lasting consequences, physically and mentally. Detention can create new traumas or exacerbate previous ones.

May 31, 2022

May 6, 2022

May 1, 2022

Filtration and the Crime of Forcibly Transferring Ukrainian Civilians to Russia

Biden Should Immediately Safeguard At-Risk Groups, Restore Asylum Access

Greece's Use of Migrants as Police Auxiliaries in Pushbacks

Killings, Disappearances, Child Recruitment, Forced Displacement

Over 200 Groups Write in Support of the Family of Anastasio Hernandez Rojas in Their Petition Before the IACHR

Donors Should Press Ministry to Improve Access, Transparency; End Policy Barriers

Joint Statement

Written Testimony Submitted to the US State Department and other Federal Agencies, Alison Parker, US Program, Human Rights Watch

Updated April 15, 2022

Oct 26, 2022

Preventing Intimidation in US Elections; Landmark Declaration on Explosive Weapons; Dam Trouble in Kyrgyzstan; Take Note; Listen: Qatar's Abuses of LGBT People; Watch: Speaking on Xinjiang at the UN; On Our Terms: Impunity.

Get updates on human rights issues from around the globe. Join our movement today.

Human Rights Watch is a 501(C)(3) nonprofit registered in the US under EIN: 13-2875808